Mining Finance Is Subject of Long Nanaimo Session

Assistant Secretary of Canadian Collieries Subjected to Five Hours' Cross-Examination by Counsel of Commission—Books of the Company to Be Examined in Office

NANAIMO, April 2 (CP).—A maze of figures, dealing with capitalization and financial structure of Canadian Collieries (D.), Ltd., Western Fuel Corporation of Canada and several holdings and purchases of Canadian Collieries, were brought before Justice M. A. Macdonald, of the Royal Commission investigating coal and oil, here today.

C. H. O'Halloran, commission counsel, and Patrick Fagan, assistant secretary, Canadian Collieries, were principal figures in today's session. The latter occupied the witness stand for almost five hours and was subjected to rigid cross-examination during the entire period. He will be on the stand again tomorrow. Following this session the hearing will adjourn to the Canadian Collieries' office, No. 1 mine, where books of the company for the past twenty-five years will be examined.

CONTESTS CHARGE
Mr. O'Halloran contested charging of development work to net earnings, on each year's balance sheet, maintaining that it should have been charged against capital investment.

Mr. Justice Macdonald interposed with the remark that development might result in the finding of coal to last several years, and asked whether this sum dealt with the cost of mining for only one year.

"You have put your finger on it exactly, Your Lordship," declared commission counsel. "If a seam is uncovered, the $100,000 should be charged against it as long as it is being worked, and not against other prospects."

"In my friend going to call an expert to prove that this is a violation of the mining principle of accountancy?" asked A. Bruce Robertson, who is acting for the collieries, before the argument was over.

IMPOSSIBLE TO MERGE
Mr. Fagan explained that when Canadian Collieries acquired Western Fuel Co., both companies had bonded indebtedness which made it impossible for them to merge. After 1928, however, they did merge, but separate accounts of each company are still kept.

Witness further explained the capital structure of the Canadian Collieries after they had acquired the holdings of Wellington Collieries and R. Dunsmuir & Sons, of San Francisco.

Wellington Collieries Railroad was incorporated after this deal, and the stock is held by Canadian Collieries.

Mr. Fagan is secretary, and directors are Fagan, G. C. Baker, J. H. Stevens and D. C. McFarlane, all of Nanaimo.

Mr. O'Halloran attempted to find out what property Canadian Collieries have registered in their own name, but this part of the evidence was held over until the hearing at the company's office.

DISPUTES BALANCE SHEET
The secretary disagreed with the balance sheet submitted to the Burns Commission in 1914, saying that the amount noted under fixed assets was only for development or repairs done during the year.

Further wrangling developed over assets of the Canadian Collieries, and the property they purchased in millions throughout the year was increased 1.7 per cent.

Reduction in Cash Deficit for Year Is Reported by C.N.R.

LESS THAN AUTHORIZED
Expenditures on additions and betterments were below the $3,835,107 authorized.

Co-operation by means of passenger train pooling with the Canadian Pacific and other measures were put into effect during the year.

During the year 538 miles of functionally duplicate lines were abandoned, of which 296 were Canadian National and 242 Canadian Pacific.

During 1934 the operating revenues, $164,902,501; operating expenses, $151,936,078; net revenue, $12,966,423.

IMPROVEMENT FORESEEN
"The Canadian National Railways," the report stated, "has obtained its fair share of the additional business available. The patronage given by the public generally is highly gratifying and we look forward to a continued improvement in the volume of traffic handled. It should be pointed out, however, that the revenues in 1934 were $91,000,000, or $1,750,000 per week less than the average of the ten years, 1923 to 1932, and, whilst progress was made during 1934, the low volume of business continues to be the greatest adverse factor in our transportation problem. The increase of 11 per cent in gross revenues on Canadian National Railways compares with an average increase of 5.7 per cent on United States Class 1 railroads."

Freight revenues, the report stated, increased by 12.3 per cent. Tonnage increased on every region and in every major group of commodities. Gratifying increases are noted in the movement of automobiles, auto bodies and parts, forest products, paper and pulp, coal and coke. The less-than-average grain crop in Western Canada, due to drought conditions, grasshopper damage and early frost, brought about a disappointing movement from interior points, the tonnage moved being about the same as in 1933. By rate concessions the railways continued to contribute in substantial measure to the relief of distress in various parts of the Dominion.

UNREGULATED COMPETITION
Activities of unregulated competitors, said the report, have continued and increased. In addition to causing direct loss of traffic, these activities necessitated establishment of water and motor truck competitive rates which seriously affected railway revenues.

Low-fare excursions were continued co-operatively with the Canadian Pacific with satisfactory results. Reduced fares were contained throughout the year for transportation of unemployed men and from Government relief camps and for the movement of unemployed to farms and settlement areas. As indicative of the low cost of railway travel, the report states that the average fare on Canadian National Railways in 1934 was 21-4c per mile.

After dealing with steps taken to keep down capital expenditure the report dealt with co-operative economies with the Canadian Pacific. Joint approval has been given for the abandonment of 538 miles of functionally duplicate lines, of which 296 were C.N.R. and 242 C.P.R.

CO-OPERATIVE ECONOMIES
Continuing the report stated: "Joint examination of many projects, which superficially appeared capable of yielding co-operative economies, showed that the economies to be derived are not commensurate with the capital expenditures necessary to bring them about, or that under present conditions no economy would result."

Studies have also been in progress with regard to the consolidation of the telegraph and express departments of the two companies, the trustees report. Legal difficulties arose in regard to the consolidation of the telegraph properties, while in the case of the express department the report states that "the Canadian National is by no means convinced the maximum economy and convenience to the public would result from such action." Studies are being made to determine whether an internal consolidation of express and less-than-carload freight facilities would not yield greater economies and present a more effective front to highway competition than consolidation of the two express companies.

The trustees noted with satisfaction that in 1934 net income from the company's hotel operations improved by $213,600. The operating surplus (total revenue less expenses and taxes) was $37,017. "This is the first year since consolidation in 1923 that our hotels have produced an operating surplus," the report states.

World Championships In Olympic Series Go to Germany and Greece

NEW YORK, April 2 (CP).—International contract championships in the fourth world bridge Olympic went to Germany and Greece, a final tabulation of results disclosed today.

Western Canadian winners were named simultaneously with those for sixty other countries represented in the mammoth tournament.

The Olympic was played the night of February 1—for the best scores in sixteen prepared hands—in more than 150,000 players in 1,100 communities participated.

Frau C. von Kameny and Dr. L. von Barkow, of Dresden, Germany, won the world North-South title; while Mme. Poppy Lotou and Stephen Zotos, of Athens, Greece, ranked highest for the East-West position.

British Columbia winners were: North-South, Charles C. Cooper and Daisy E. Cooper, Victoria; East-West, Mrs. Mary Ridewood and Mrs. Helen A. Martin, Victoria.

MAY CHANGE FAIR DATES

Hunter and Andrew McGavin. Mainland interests will be represented by Jack Brighouse and F. W. Randall, of Vancouver; A. D. Patterson, Ladner, and Charles Oldfield, Richmond.

Since the time the date of the annual Provincial Exhibition was announced as August 17 to 24, there has been a deadlock over racing at Willows Park. Colwood Park Association applied for permission to hold racing at the Willows from September 7 to 23, but this did not find favor with the City Council. The association contended that races could not be held at the fair as the date conflicted with the racing circuit mapped out for the province this year.

WOULD LOSE MONEY
Both the British Columbia Agricultural Association and the city are placed in a peculiar position. If there are no races at the fair, the association stands to lose between $3,000 and $4,000 in gate receipts, which it can ill afford to do. If the date is changed back to September, there is a possibility of extreme inconvenience to exhibitors who follow the British Columbia fair circuit, which has already been mapped out for the year. Without racing, the city would lose about $3,300 in pari-mutuel receipts. It receives in addition $500 from the Victoria Thoroughbred Association.

"I am in accordance with the British Columbia Agricultural Association in any change made in the date of the Provincial Exhibition,"

Governor-General Will Pay Visit to High School Here

THE Earl of Bessborough, Governor-General of Canada, and party, will pay a visit to the Victoria High School tomorrow morning and attend a special student assembly in the auditorium of the school at 11:30 o'clock. His Excellency will give a short address to the assembled teachers and students. Members of the Victoria School Board have been invited to attend.

Mayor David Leeming last evening. His personal opinion, however, was that it would be rather a mistake to have the fair in September instead of August. T. W. Hawkins, association president, stated the fair body was placed in such a peculiar position that he had nothing to say.

Possibility loomed large late last evening that there will be racing at the fair, which means the date will have to be changed.

Next Great Disturbance Set in 1937

E. S. Michell, city purchasing agent, yesterday appeared in the new role of forecaster of future events. He announced that the world's next great war would be in 1937. Mr. Michell claims to know something of numerology, the science of prognostication by number juggling.

This is how the prophet in the future worked out his war date: In 1880 there was the Afghan War, which lasted three years. Add three to 1880, which gives 1883. Add one, nine, eight and two, giving 1894, the year of the Great War. Add four to 1894, the duration of the last conflict, and we have 1898, the year the war ended. To 1898 add one, nine, one and eight. This gives 1907, the year Mr. Michell says we will have another world conflict. Whether this will turn out remains to be seen.

ACID SCATTERED AS FIRE EXTINGUISHER EXPLODES IN STREET

Sulphuric acid which splattered over the street when a fire extinguisher in use outside police headquarters yesterday nearly dealt serious burns to Martin Woodburn, of the city fire department, and Constable David Donaldson, of the police force. The two were unharmed.

The extinguisher was being used to quell a fire in the undercarriage of a police pumper car, which ignited when a brake band tightened on the transmission. Several firemen standing nearby were slightly burned with the acid.

EXPECTS GREAT TOURIST TRADE

G. I. Edgelow Finds Americans Eager to Visit Vancouver Island

With more money in circulation and more employed than last year, hundreds of Americans on the Pacific Coast were now planning Spring and Summer trips to Vancouver Island, according to Geoffrey I. Edgelow, manager and partner of the Quarter Cab Taxi Company and Pickwick Sightseeing Company, who returned Monday from a trip as far south as Mexico.

Mr. Edgelow traveled 5,100 miles in the interest of Vancouver Island hotels, and made many valuable contacts and distributed the numerous tourist attractions here.

Despite the poor condition of local roads and highways which keep scores of tourists from coming here, hundreds of persons in every Coast state were planning on visiting Victoria and the Island this year. Mr. Edgelow was informed by various travel bureaus, chambers of commerce and automobile clubs on his trip.

LIKE ATMOSPHERE
Canadians were regarded with great respect up and down the Coast and he found the "Old English atmosphere" of Victoria highly delighted many who had visited this city in the past. Victoria was well advertised in the South through the efforts of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, Mr. Edgelow asserted.

Canada received much valuable publicity through a series of lectures given each Fall and Winter in Los Angeles, Hollywood and San Diego by Major School, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who in the Spring and Summer commands a police unit in Alberta.

COMING TO ISLAND
Many California residents were so charmed with Vancouver Island that they hoped some day to live here, they told Mr. Edgelow.

Hotels on the Coast were experiencing good business, he said, and there was every indication that Vancouver Island hotels would soon begin to feel the result of the tourist movement from the South. Thousands of Americans were planning to visit the San Diego Exposition this Summer. Mr. Edgelow learned, and transportation companies were preparing special trips for visitors that would take them into Canada and to this Island. Such trips alone would bring hundreds to Victoria, and Up-Island, and will result in increased business in all lines, he declared.

BRIDLE PATHS
Mr. Edgelow expressed the hope before the tourists began to come here, that Island roads and highways would be improved. As many Americans in the South were very fond of riding, he also thought it would be a sound move for local authorities to make a number of fine bridle paths along the shoreline for their convenience.

On the trip South, Mr. Edgelow went by way of the Sacramento Valley and returned by San Francisco and the Redwood Highway. He found conditions much improved since his last visit in the Spring of 1934, and there was more talk of travel.

Dr. Alban Girault, the French Specialist, says: "Almost unbelievable how well it works!"

Dr. Girault (at right) has been chief of clinic of the Paris Faculty of Medicine—is a leading member of distinguished medical societies. He says of this new yeast:

"I was amazed at its results when used on large numbers of patients. Instead of acting harshly and temporarily as cathartics do, it stimulates secretion of digestive juices and restores bowel action naturally... It is a notable discovery."

Patients in clinics are getting remarkable relief from this new food.

Completely corrected by this new discovery...chronic

CASES OF CONSTIPATION

A new food supplies "Protective Substances" stomach and bowels need to work properly. No other food, even fruits and vegetables, supplies enough of them!

It is a fact that hospitals are now correcting even stubborn cases of constipation—simply by adding one food to the diet!

For some time it has been known that "protective substances" were needed in the diet for the stomach and bowels to work properly. When these "protective substances" are undersupplied—digestion slows up, people become constipated.

"Ordinary foods—even fruits and green vegetables—do not supply enough of these substances.

But one food now supplies them in abundance. This food is the new Fleischmann's Yeast—their richest source!

This new Fleischmann's Yeast builds up a healthier condition of the whole intestinal tract. As soon as it reaches the stomach, it starts an increased flow of digestive juices. It tones and strengthens nerves and muscles all through your intestines. Digestion improves. Bowels work better. The skin clears. Energy increases.

Begin to eat the new Fleischmann's Yeast. Eat it regularly—don't stop when you begin to feel better, but go on eating it! Do this for your own health.

THIS IS THE WAY YOU SHOULD EAT IT:

Eat 2 or 3 cakes of the new Fleischmann's fresh Yeast each day. People vary in the amount they need—some eat 4 or even 5 cakes a day, although 2 cakes daily are usually enough. A little experimenting will show you just the amount you need.

Put it in fruit juice, or dissolved in 1/2 glassful of water... or in milk, fruit juices or fountain drinks. Or spread on a cracker.

Put it on half hour before meals. This gives it a chance to start your digestive juices flowing before other food enters your stomach.

If you're taking cathartics, discontinue them gradually. As the new Fleischmann's Yeast strengthens your digestive system, you can stop using laxatives and cathartics entirely.

THE NEW FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST is a food—not a medicine. Taken regularly, it can make and keep your bowels completely "regular."

You can get the new Fleischmann's Yeast at grocers, soda fountains, drug stores, restaurants—in the foil-wrapped cake with the yellow label.

TO THE MEDICAL PROFESSION:
In recent tests, Fleischmann's new Yeast increased peptic activity up to 30%; speeded up stomach's "emptying time" 50%; increased gastric secretion and motility measurably.

Its most important substance resembles a digestive hormone. It also supplies four vitamins: Vitamin A, for health of epithelial tissue; B for proper nerve functioning; C for growth, and D to aid in assimilation of lime.

Constipation may be serious, especially if due to an organic disorder. To be sure, see a doctor.

Accession Day Will Be General Holiday Throughout Canada

Upwards of 120,000 School Children in British Columbia Will Be Given Place in Empire's Celebration of Their Majesties' Silver Jubilee

THROUGHOUT its seventy-eight cities, towns and hamlets and thirty-nine ridings, British Columbia will be en fête on Monday, May 6, in celebration of Accession Day, marking the twenty-fifth anniversary of the coronation of His Majesty King George V and Queen Mary, his royal consort.

PHILHARMONIC TO GIVE OPERA

"Il Trovatore" to Be Repeated Friday—Other Programmes Scheduled

In all the great cities of the world a gala performance of opera has always been the highlight of social festivities in the entertainment of Royalty and distinguished visitors, therefore the performance on Friday evening of "Il Trovatore" by the Victoria Philharmonic Society, under the direction of Basil Horsfall, well-known operatic conductor and composer, makes a fitting climax to entertainments which have been given locally for their Excellencies the Governor-General and Lady Bessborough and, further, the response from music lovers should insure a substantial donation in aid of King George V Silver Jubilee Cancer Fund.

There is, however, a very important fact regarding the performance of "Il Trovatore," and one to which Victorians can point to with much pride, for while gala operatic performances in all cities have invariably been sung by foreign professional artists, in the performance Friday night, the entire score of Verdi's immortal "Il Trovatore" will be sung by local artists, with one exception, including soloists, chorus and professional orchestral musicians.

SEASON'S WORK
During the balance of this season the Philharmonic will offer Gounod's "Faust" and Wagner's "Lohengrin," together with a contemplated production of Richard Wagner's second opera, "Das Liebesverbot," during the Summer, which, incidentally, will be the first time this Wagner opus has ever been heard on the North American Continent. The society's Fall schedule will include Verdi's "Aida," Bizet's "Carmen," and the popular English ballad "Martina." The wish of Basil Horsfall, the Philharmonic Society's musical director, is to develop Victoria as the Bayreuth or Salzburg of the Pacific Northwest, where students and music lovers from all over may come to learn and hear the great operatic works. To local singers and musicians the work of the Philharmonic offers possibilities of which the city may be justly proud.

TOURIST CAMP OWNERS IN CONFERENCE HERE

Delegates from the Pacific Coast organization of tourist camp owners, known as "Best Camps, Incorporated," are meeting in Victoria this week for discussion of plans for the 1935 tourist season.

Among those attending the parley are Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, of Santa Barbara; Mr. and Mrs. Miss Gies, of Salem, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. Cockburn, of Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Miller, of Vancouver; and S. M. Armstrong, of Victoria. Headquarters for the conference are at the Victoria Tourist Camp. It will be concluded today.

Rheumatism Caused Sore Back and Hand

Scarcely Able to Follow His Occupation.

Dodd's Kidney Pills Soon Made This Man Well

Lady Lake, Sask., April 2 (Special). "Last Winter I was troubled with Rheumatism in my left hand," writes Mr. P. Tymchuk, who lives at this place. "I read Dodd's Almanac right through and saw that many people got relief from Rheumatism by taking Dodd's Kidney Pills. So I tried them. After taking six boxes I was quite all right. Before I started taking them I could not ride my bicycle because my back ached so, but now I can ride and do my outdoor work."

Rheumatism is usually caused by the presence of uric acid in the blood. If the kidneys are functioning properly they will drain all uric acid out of the blood and there can be no Rheumatism.

For half a century Dodd's Kidney Pills have been relieving Canadian people of Rheumatism and Backache. Why not profit by their experience.

Through state channels at Ottawa, plans are moving forward for full Canadian observance of the day as a public holiday, with special programmes in every province and in every settlement. At the express wish of His Majesty, children are to be given a large share in the official proceedings at every point.

WILL FORM COMMITTEE

The British Columbia Government will shortly form a special committee to co-ordinate plans for the proper observance of Accession Day in this province, it was learned yesterday. May 6 will be gazetted a holiday in the schools and for the Civil Service, with negotiations proceeding now as to whether or not this may be extended.

The Provincial Secretary's department has already contacted church and civic dignitaries, looking towards uniform services of commemoration on Sunday, May 5, to be followed on Accession Day by public ceremonies at every point.

Naval and military forces will play a big part in the actual proceedings, as will the kiddies, 120,000 of whom will be freed from British Columbia schools for the day.

EMPIRE OCCASION

The actual details of the programme at various points will come later, but it is expected that special efforts will be made to broadcast to the public His Majesty's speech, and to observe the silver jubilee of his accession to the throne as an Empire holiday with general rejoicing. Presentation of special jubilee medals by the Lieutenant-Governor will be part of the official programme in this province.

The Dominion Civil Service. Provincially, Accession Day will be a Bank holiday, and a holiday for daily, it will be a school holiday and a holiday for the Provincial Civil Service. At Parliament Hill, Ottawa, the Dominion celebration will be launched in unison with provincial and civic demonstrations throughout the whole Dominion.

Late Mrs. E. Parnell

An Appreciation

THE LATE MRS. E. PARNELL

A woman of peculiarly sweet and gracious personality, an unostentatious benefactor in all communities where she took up her residence, and who radiated kindness and humanity, passed away in the death here recently of Mrs. Emelle E. Parnell, widow of the late Edward Parnell, who was mayor of Winnipeg for some time. She had lived here for the past fourteen years.

Mrs. Parnell was particularly well known in the Oak Bay district, being a devoted adherent of the Anglican Church, and a member of St. Mary's, Oak Bay; in the Women's Auxiliary and various other parochial organizations of which she was active.

She was also a member of the Women's Canadian Club and the Overseas Club, and was keenly interested in various charitable and social welfare works—particularly the Seamen's Institute and the care of the blind and the aged. In her benefactions she observed the Scriptural injunction of maintaining secrecy about her giving.

Being of Irish birth, she possessed the great charm of manner and warmth of heart which one associates with women of that nationality. She was widely traveled, having visited most parts of the world during her life.

She was married twice, her first husband being Mr. Brooks, of Newcastle New South Wales. By this marriage she had two sons, both of whom survive her: Keith, of Newcastle, Australia, and Douglas, of Sherburne, County Durham, England. Both here and in Winnipeg, Australia and England, she leaves a host of friends.

EXPLAINS HOW TO KILL PESTS

Outlines Methods of Destroying Garden Insects—Slides Presented

Various methods by which garden pests can be destroyed were outlined to members of the Victoria Horticultural Society last night in the City Hall. William H. Downes, entomologist of the Federal Department of Agriculture, was the speaker. He also displayed slides showing types of insects and the result of their destructive work.

Mr. Downes dealt mainly with earwigs, which, he said, would continue to destroy plants here for another five years. By that time parasites would be sufficient in number to curb the steady increase in earwigs. The recent cold weather here did not affect the pests much, he declared.

White ants were practically harmless, but could be curtailed by raising houses off the ground. Sucking and biting insects required two types of treatment, air poisoning for the former and arsenic solution for the latter.

SLIDES SHOWN
In his slides Mr. Downes pictured the deadly narcissus fly, which, he declared, could be partially prevented from destroying plants by use of dehydrated lime. Views of the European leaf roller and many other insects were flashed on the screen and remedies for their destructive action given.

"The battle against insects is growing more important year by year. Victoria has built up an enviable reputation for fine gardens, but is gradually becoming known as a city where many pests develop," declared Mr. Downes.

In a brief sketch of spiders, Mr. Downes said local residents had no further cause to worry about black widow spiders on the British Columbia Coast. He also refuted statements that dogs and cats were being killed by the poison intended for earwigs.

Will Rogers, Jr. Visits Victoria

Will Rogers, Jr., youthful son of the famous movie comedian, was a visitor to Victoria for several hours on Sunday. He arrived from Vancouver and left for Seattle. He is little like his father in looks or mannerisms. Neither has he the slow drawl of his renowned parent. Self-assured, young Rogers carries himself with the air of a college student, which he is, being one of the rated debaters for Stanford University.

LECTURES ON SHAFTESBURY

Very Rev. G. S. Quainton Describes Work of Lord Shaftesbury in England

The life and life's work of Lord Shaftesbury (1801-1885), English philanthropist and friend of the people, formed an interesting subject for the lecture given at the Memorial Hall here last evening by Very Rev. G. S. Quainton, Dean of Columbia.

It was a subject that was particularly suited to the dean—a champion of social reform in the new age. The work of Lord Shaftesbury, from the time he became a member of Parliament in 1826 to his death in 1885, is fairly well known to students of nineteenth century history of economic conditions in England. Hodder's life and history of Shaftesbury, in three volumes, published in 1886, the dean mentioned, gives an authentic review of the economic conditions of that time.

Although the lecture was on Lord Shaftesbury, the interesting portions consisted of the dean's vivid description of industry's treatment of women and children employees in the mills, factories, mines and collieries of England and Scotland. He put particular emphasis on the treatment of the children in the cotton mills of Lancashire and Yorkshire, whom he described as the "tiny shreds of humanity dragging out an existence all for the profit that you must not touch."

Another epic of the dean's descriptive powers was his description of the "climbing boy," or chimney sweep—not altogether abolished until 1875. Another was the story of the children of the mines "blinking away in the dark like human bats." It was due to the efforts of Shaftesbury that conditions in the mines and collieries were ameliorated. It was also due to his efforts that health conditions, sanitation and better housing for the working people were given study.

The dean said he considered Shaftesbury was the greatest philanthropist of his day, but he could not help believing he had come into the world of affairs too soon to permit, although he lived a long life, him to accomplish all the things he had set his heart and his mind to do.

SCOW CAPSIZING WAS ACCIDENTAL

Judge in Admiralty Court Dismisses Suit of Pacific Mills Against Tug Commodore

VANCOUVER, April 2 (CP).—Capsizing of a scow laden with logging equipment in Nakwakto Rapids, March 26, 1933, was an "inevitable accident," Mr. Justice Martin held today in Admiralty Court when he dismissed the suit of Pacific Mills, Ltd., against the steam tug Commodore for $24,717.

The scow was diverted by an eddy, grounded on a rock and as the tug attempted to haul it off, it capsized. Part of the cargo of two donkey engines and logging equipment was salvaged.

Evidence was submitted that the tides of Nakwakto Rapids are the most dangerous on the Pacific Coast.

FEDERAL AID TO PROVINCES

The Federal Government has been the fairy godmother of the Western Provinces during the time of depression. What it has done for them has gone a long way to take the force out of their arguments in favor of better terms. It has come to their financial assistance to the tune of $75,000,000 in all, either directly or indirectly, and the actual borrowings by the provinces from the Dominion have reached a total of $23,300,000. Of the latter amount, $2,900,000 went to Manitoba, $10,500,000 to Saskatchewan, $9,100,000 to Alberta and $8,000,000 to British Columbia. These are the figures given by Mr. Rhodes in his Federal budget speech. The $23,300,000 has to be added to a net total of loans previously outstanding amounting to $15,300,000.

Some of the loans were made to meet maturing obligations of the provinces, and in some cases to meet actual interest on provincial loans. There have been loans given by the Federal Government for public works and direct relief aggregating $48,398,336. Of the total of $74,600,000 advanced by Ottawa, Saskatchewan alone has received $34,489,426. In addition there is the Dominion's own expenditures in the past fiscal year for provincial and municipal relief undertakings, camps for single men and relief in the drought area of Saskatchewan, totalling $60,448,000. The situation now is that the Dominion is the creditor of the Western Provinces to a very substantial amount and it is very doubtful if the money will ever be repaid.

The question for Ottawa to decide is if it is going to go on indefinitely lending money in this way without any assurances from the provinces concerned that they will set their financial houses in order. It would seem that one of the most necessary amendments to the British North America Act would be that which would give the Dominion some measure of control over the financial operations of the provinces. Most certainly the taxpayers would welcome such an amendment if it would protect their purses.

CONFERENCE OF MAYORS

The Mayors of Canadian cities when they met in Montreal were not speaking for their several provinces. They simply voiced the views of different municipalities represented at the conference. This is despite the fact that The Montreal Star said that the most they could be expected to do would be to arrive at some common ground of action "as between the provinces and the Federal authorities." That is exactly what they could not do, and the municipal representatives were merely speaking for themselves and not for Provincial Governments. The Montreal Star's comment was possibly inspired by the fact that Premier Taschereau has promised, on the part of Quebec, that his Government will take care of half the cost of relief if the Federal authorities will shoulder the other half. This would be a solution of one municipal difficulty, but there is no assurance from any province, other than Quebec, and no assurance at all from the Dominion Government, that Premier Taschereau's proposal will be entertained.

Another matter discussed at the Montreal gathering was the proposal of the Mayor of Vancouver to reduce the rate on municipal loans to 3 per cent, despite the contractual obligations of municipalities. The harm done to municipal credit by this suggestion, which is to be translated into a matter of practical policy in Vancouver, has yet to be felt in its full effect. Some idea of how it is entertained in money centres is voiced by The London Morning Post, which says: "Canada's credit, despite all, still remains high; but it won't be able to withstand many more shocks such as that just administered by the Mayor of Vancouver. Dependent as Canada is on external borrowing, it may be hoped she will vigorously take in hand the task of settling her financial house in order." Vancouver's bonds have now been removed from the listings on the London Stock Exchange. The city has been given a black eye because of loss of honesty of purpose in its administration. The Mayors' conference has not corrected the bad impression that prevails. It has, however, drawn attention in a national way to municipal problems in finance. It has given no assurance, however, of the rigid enforcement of economies which is the only honest way of getting out of financial difficulties.

THE YOUTH MOVEMENT

The clouds of depression which have too long overshadowed the economic sky have not been without their silver linings. To change the figure and make use of a well-known maxim, it's an ill wind that blows nobody good. While it is unfortunately true that large numbers of industriously-inclined citizens have been without work for an extended period, it is also true that in a great number of cases they have turned this period of unthought leisure to excellent account. The returns of school attendance show that many thousands of young people of both sexes have returned to school to continue their studies under high school or college instructors, or in vocational or trade schools. The most casual observer in visiting one of our public libraries in any town or city can hardly fail to see that hundreds, not only of young people but of men and women well advanced in life, are making use of their leisure in pursuing studies long interrupted.

In many well-conducted homes in Canada the long period of depression has been excellently occupied by wide-awake young men pursuing their studies along favorite lines. Old school texts have been hunted up and dusted off and have been used to excellent purpose under the direction of the head of the house. Those who describe the family life of the "unemployed" as depressing, hopeless, shiftless, despairing, and idle are paying a left-handed compliment to their fellow citizens. No doubt there are cases where the morale of the home has suffered from the effects of continued idleness and the absence of any determined effort at self-education and profitable study; but on the other hand there are great numbers who have been too wise to waste the passing months feeling sorry for themselves. They have courageously kept up their own morale and that of the family. The most successful youth movement of these days of depression has been the persistent effort towards self-improvement which has been going on with no flourish of trumpets in the quiet and steady pursuit of useful hobbies, arts and handicrafts, in the development of power and skill in various directions, and in the acquisition of knowledge and liberalizing culture as well.

TELEVISION

Television on a restricted scale is to be put into effect for general use in Great Britain. The initial price of a receiving set is £50. With this development there is speculation as to what scenes will be presented to the human eye. The answer is certain outdoor scenes that can be brought within a small compass, such as a tennis match, the finish of the boat race, the Lord Mayor's show and other processions and sporting events. Sir Ernest Bennett, the assistant Postmaster-General, does not believe that television will prevent people from attending theatres, concerts or sporting events, but it will enable hundreds of thousands of people who cannot be in actual attendance at these to enjoy them at some distance and by actual vision of what is happening. It is hoped some day to extend television to such an extent that almost any event can be brought into vision at the domestic fireside. It is of such a day that Sir Ernest Bennett writes:

"At times it may be, one would prefer to walk by faith rather than by sight. It is a better thing to hear the bells of Bethlehem than to see the traditional Birthplace crowded with the tawdry insignia of rival Christian churches. Broadcasting and long-distance telephony are making it more difficult to sustain any crusade of national hatred engineered by Governments or newspapers; and these vile efforts may be still further frustrated, if from time to time, amid the stress and peril of international misunderstandings, we not only hear the voice of men and women like ourselves in foreign lands, but behold them in happy scenes of home life, taking part in the same sports and pastimes as ourselves, worshipping in their churches the common God and Father of mankind. Television has come to stay; it is of vital importance that its progress should be ordered with only one object in view—that of service to the community."

SPEAKING OF ECONOMY

There are two advantages about economy: it teaches one to count, but above all to conquer one's self, and the second is more important than the first. Certainly it is an excellent thing to learn to count, coolly to calculate what can be done with a given sum and the best means for employing that sum to get the most out of it. Three-quarters of those who find themselves in need, indeed in poverty, could probably get out of it if they had learned to count, if they had learned to resist being carried away by a momentary and unreasonable desire. If it needs nothing more than intelligence to establish a budget, will power is necessary to stick to it and to make the necessary sacrifices to balance it. Economy is a constant exercise for the will and the best way of training it and subduing it—L'Action Catholique, Quebec.

OLD-FASHIONED TEAPOTS

Teapots have grown considerably in size since 1720, and you will be surprised to learn that at this time they were only just large enough to hold sufficient water for one small cup of tea. I actually handled one of these little pots the other day and it was well over a century old. It seemed no larger than a toy teapot being about the size of a rather large doll's pot. Of course, tea in those days was very expensive. It came from China and formed one of the luxuries which only the rich could afford. In the days of Good Queen Bess they drank beer for breakfast and the Queen had her pot of beer the same as everyone else. These early teapots are, of course, very rare, and so are the accompanying cups and saucers, which were made in Chinese fashion without any handles.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

OUR TWO MURKINTEERS

We couldn't do without McGee. We'd rather go without our beer. He made bond interest three per cent. When the last time was nearly spent.

With diffidence being belief. For civic life he seeks relief. Like far-off thunder scarcely heard. The road he does, must be inferred.

Vancouver surely must be proud. Although not shouting it out loud. If Garry, shall he be the collar. They may pay five cents on the dollar.

If with our David he would join. And he allowed free backs to join. In our mind's eye we see them land. Shouting loudly, "Where's the band?"

Don't waste a thought! They will come back. Seeking new sources of attack. We should be proud, and feel a thrill. At being allowed to foot.

—E. B. ANDROS.
1203 Beach Drive, Oak Bay.

Dear R.B.D.—Having read with interest your comments of things in general and the Mayor of Vancouver in particular, and being confined to my bed with a bad cold, I have whiled away the time by writing the enclosed lines. They may, in a certain measure, express the sentiments of a few people who, like myself, believe that the only salvation for municipalities is to stop borrowing, stop flying and walk when we haven't the price of carfare.

If the cost of the administration of governments, Federal, provincial and municipal, were kept to a figure that was reasonable and right, there would be no need of repudiation of just debts, unloading of our responsibilities on tourists and other questionable devices, which, in my humble opinion, will get us nowhere. But so long as we, without protest, meekly allow our representatives to waste our money on useless junketing to Ottawa, Montreal and elsewhere, there does not appear to be any hope of better times or better government.

Yours truly,

E. B. ANDROS.
1203, Beach Drive, Victoria, B.C., April 1, 1935.

We thank Mr. Andros for his contribution, while envious of the gift or the facility with which he can "drop into verse." We believe it was either an eminent authority, or one who claimed to be an eminent authority, who said that in order to be a good prose writer it was necessary to cultivate the art of grinding out passable verses. Under that judgment we are condemned to literary mediocrity. We know that nearly all the eminent writers who contribute to the columns of Punch seem to be equally facile in turning out to order or inspiration admirable verse or prose.

Which reminds us of several stories. Two of the stories are told by Mr. E. V. Lucas, who was for thirty years a contributor to the columns of Punch. One of the stories is based upon our own experience. Years ago it was the custom of young girls to cherish as their most interesting possessions their autograph albums. There are no autograph albums now; there are only vanity cases and lipstick. Turning over the leaves of one of these obsolete household relics one day we noticed the lamentation of a very young man that he could not write anything original because there was nothing original in him except original sin. A truth like that would not be a cause for lamentation in these days of progress and emancipation. It would be a reason for rejoicing not only on the part of the young ladies, but probably also on the part of the young maidens.

Mr. Lucas' two stories are more interesting and more illuminating. The first of the stories was about a great actor who for more than a generation had entertained the British people by his stage drolleries. Toole, the great comedian, had passed the meridian of his powers and was beginning to "lag superfluously." There always has been a strong bond of union between the press and the stage of England. As a testimony of esteem for the veteran actor and the always active newspapermen of London entertained the fading celebrity at a dinner. The festivities were prolonged until an early hour. When Mr. Lucas was preparing to go home, Toole begged him to linger a little longer, explaining that when in bed he could not sleep because his room was always filled by ghosts, wraiths of departed friends and memories of all who had gone before.

There is a moral attached to all Lucas' stories. The lesson to be learned from the story of the decaying actor is that we should so live as not to tread in the dim and silent watches of the night the presence of ghosts at our bedside. Memories may be generative of pensive moods, but they may not necessarily be productive of dread or melancholy. The moral to be drawn from the last Lucas story is that political ghosts should be permitted to stay in the place prepared for them and never resurrected. Punch from the day of its birth always has been somewhat sceptical and cynical in its opinions about politicians, although leaning slightly to the Liberal side in its political views. When Mr. Gladstone began his celebrated campaign in the Lothians Mr. Lucas was tempted and went to hear one of his great speeches. Instead of being impressed, the eminent journalist and author was depressed by the oratorical performance. He was depressed because, although the words flowed from the mouth of the speaker as freely as of old, although all the old political tricks were resorted to for the purpose of arousing enthusiasm, there was an apparent lack of sincerity in every word and the old magic power was gone. The performance was ghostly. There was an element of unreality about the whole thing, although it was skillfully staged and the arranged applause always burst out at the right time.

There is said to be a political crisis impending in Canada. The matter for the people to determine is the sincerity of those who are making appeals for public support. The electors should have learned from the teachings of experience the difference between promises and performances. There are various political elements in the field; but in the cases of most of them the only thing in which they appear to be sincere is in a ravenous hunger for power and the advantages of office.

WILLIAM D. UPSHAW WILL SPEAK IN CITY

He will be the chief speaker at a mass meeting of the temperance forces of the city and district in the Metropolitan Church at 8 o'clock and at a supper meeting at the Y.W.C.A. at 6 o'clock. Rev. W. FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Columbia of April 3, 1885.)

Counterfeit Coins—There are quite a number of counterfeit coins, mostly American standard silver dollars, in circulation in Victoria. It was reported by police yesterday. The counterfeit is a very poor one, and easily detected, but it would be wise for merchants and others to be on the lookout and endeavor to precipitate the arrest of these counterfeiters.

Sir Elliott Anderson—The Ottawa Sun announced that Elliott Anderson has been created a Knight Commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George in recognition of his services as Consul-General in Ottawa for that nation. Sir Elliott, who was a former resident of Victoria, is to be congratulated on the modesty in which he received this honor.

Presbyterian Churches—Rev. Mr. Dunn, of Langley, is in town for the purpose of soliciting subscriptions for a Presbyterian Church at Langley and another at Mud Bay. It is believed he will meet with much success from all denominations.

Ship Castles—During the past week the Albatross from Victoria has shipped about fifty tons of bridge castles to Osoyoos.

He, she, or it, as the case may be, gave us a lot of notoriety last year and provided some good "copy" for the news columns of many newspapers. When scientists took a hand, however, and rendered judgment to the effect that there couldn't possibly be such a creature without them having first-hand knowledge of it, the critics began to poke fun at us, suggesting that serpents might be seen any time and even grow to the "fourth dimension" under favorable circumstances. Well, ourself never saw the "snake," so can't prove anything. A Mr. B. Skeptic only the other day took occasion to recall that "it" hadn't shown up in the papers here lately, evidently keeping clear of any attempt of the Five Year planners to capitalize its presence. Caddie is not afraid of newspaper publicity, you may be sure, even it may appear camera-shy. It is not far away, either. One day last week a party who certainly is not looking for newspaper space about his name, watched it for quite a while, he said, and without the aid of glasses of any description.—F. M. K.

FLY ALONG
OLD ROUTE

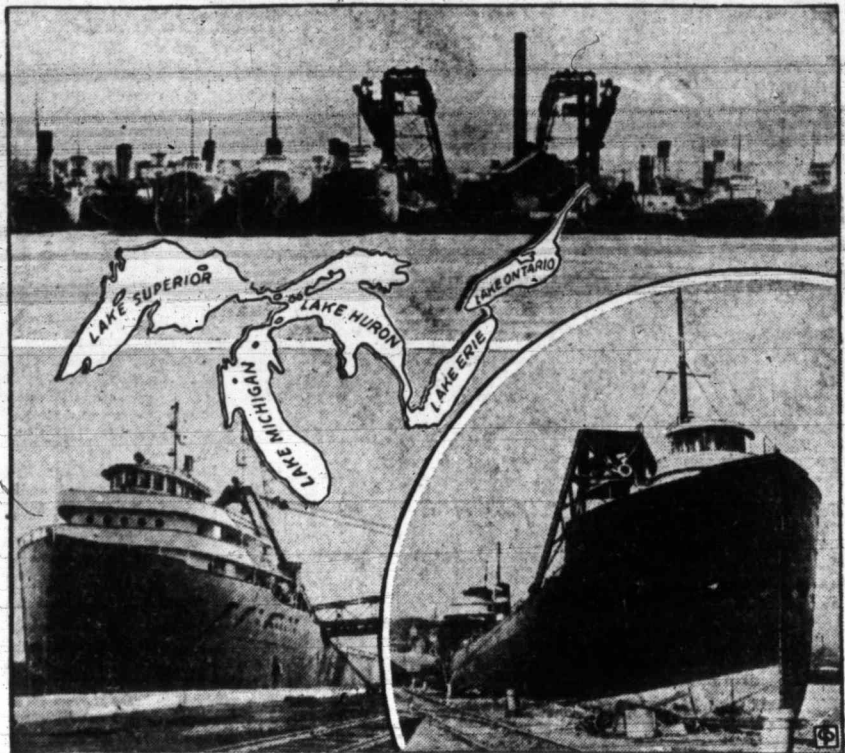

Airplanes Join to Celebrate
Inauguration of the Pony Express

The Pacific Northwest today joins other sections of the country in celebrating transportation and communication progress from the time pony express service was inaugurated just seventy-one years ago.

A transport plane of United Air Lines, carrying passengers, mail and express, left the Northwest yesterday morning for Sacramento, where the pony express service saw its start. Other United Air Lines planes will streak over the same route followed by the pony express riders between California and the Missouri River, covering in ten hours the distance which the pony express horsemen negotiated in ten days.

OLD OVERLAND TRAIL

The route followed by the pony express was the old overland trail, pioneered in the early days of the nineteenth century by explorers and traders. John Frey spurred his horse out of St. Joseph, Missouri, on the afternoon of April 3, 1860, to inaugurate schedules from the Missouri River to California and to slash two-thirds off schedules maintained by stage coaches on the mid-continent route. At the same time, Harry Roff left Sacramento for St. Joseph and ten days later the east-

Better Season
Forseen on Great Lakes

Sailors Who Go Down to the Great Lakes on the Freighters and Passenger Boats Are Preparing for the Best Year They Have Had Since 1930—Perhaps Since 1929. In Every Port Shipping Men Are Getting Their Vessels Ready, and All in All the Operators Are Looking Forward to a Good Season.

bound relay galloped into St. Joseph to complete the first schedule. Today, planes of United Air Lines practically parallel the entire distance the route followed by the pony express riders.

FASTEST TIME
The fastest time ever made by the pony express was seven days and eighteen hours, when President Lincoln's first message to Congress was carried across the country. That record was almost equaled when news that Fort Sumter was fired upon was rushed westward.

Postage on a letter via pony express was ten dollars in gold. Today, a six-cent air mail stamp pays a letter over the route without loss of a single business hour.

EXHIBITION
ABOARD SHIP

Canadian Handicrafts Guild
Chooses Cunard Liner
For Annual Show

MONTREAL, April 2.—The Canadian Handicrafts Guild has just announced that its annual exhibition for 1935 will be held aboard the Cunard-White Star liner Ascania on May 28, 29 and 30, while this steamer is in port.

This is the first time its exhibition, which has hitherto been held in the Art Gallery here, has been arranged aboard a ship, and it is expected that the novelty of it will attract thousands of visitors who are invited to inspect the displays of handicrafts which will be arranged in the public rooms and on the decks of the Ascania. A wide variety of handicrafts will be displayed, the work of craftsmen from all over Canada.

SILK WEAVING

From Prince Edward Island there have been promised a considerable quantity of hooked rugs and some silk weaving, which is a comparatively new development in the Canadian handicrafts field. Antigonish, known as the "Little Scotland" of Cape Breton, is sending some tweeds for which this part of the country has long been famous. From New Brunswick will come tweeds and Jacobean embroidery.

A selection of hooked rugs will represent Asbestos, Que., as well as many other specimens of native arts and crafts from this province. From Okaville, Ont., there will be Afghans and scarfs and bags to match. Exhibits of pottery, animals and birds will come from Toronto. Alberta will send some excellent examples of weaving, carving and pottery. Birch bark Indian craft is being sent from Manitoulin Island.

The Military Hospital at St. Anne de Bellevue will send a selection of articles made by the patients, including weaving, basketry, hooked rugs, furniture, footstools and toys. Extraordinary interest has been shown in the idea of the exhibition from all branches of the guild throughout the Dominion.

TOUCH OF HUMOR

A touch of humor was forthcoming in a letter received from a worker in a little community on the Lower St. Lawrence, who, apparently unable to grasp the idea of a handicrafts exhibition aboard an ocean liner, wrote in and asked how long the cruise would be and requested information as to which countries would be visited.

Another feature of the exhibition will be an exhibit of specially-mounted and enlarged photographs prepared by Herbert Black, official photographer of Cunard-White Star Limited. These photographs will depict many places of scenic and historic interest in the British Isles, the St. Lawrence, and ship scenes.

Vancouver Shipping

VANCOUVER, April 2.—Ms. Bonnington Court arrived overnight from Vancouver Island ports to complete her cargo here. She will load lumber and general for Montreal, on her first departure this year for the Eastern Canadian port.

Yamashita Shipping Company, Ltd., has the freighter Bordeaux Maru at New Westminster, loading spelter, logs and lumber for Japan.

Ss. Framlington Court has shifted to Dollarton to complete loading grain and lumber for the United Kingdom, Anglo-Canadian Shipping Company, ship's agent, reports.

Deep-sea ships entering New Westminster last month totaled thirty-three, as compared with thirty-six in March, 1934. For the first quarter of 1935 there have been 118 ships, as against 116 in the first quarter of 1934. While shipping at the river port was down slightly last month as compared to 1934, the total cargo tonnage was greater.

Ms. Abraham Lincoln is due here tomorrow to the Anglo-Canadian Shipping Company, with general freights from Europe and a parcel of 160 tons of fresh fruits from California.

The auxiliary schooner Malahat has gone on drydock for scrapping and general repairs and will be out of the docks in a few days, it was announced by the Burrard Drydock Company, of North Vancouver.

HALIBUT ARE DOING BETTER

Setting Aside of Northern Areas as Fish Sanctuary
Good Business

Dr. W. I. Thomson, of Seattle, director of investigation into the halibut fisheries on this Coast, as a member of the International Fisheries Commission, accompanied by E. Allen, also of Seattle, who is a member of the same body, have been in Victoria for several days conferring with John P. Babcock, chairman of the commission, on matters connected with the investigations that are being carried on. They left yesterday at noon on their return trip by way of the Sidney ferry. They were accompanied by their wives.

The other members of the commission are W. A. Found, deputy Minister of Fisheries, at Ottawa, and T. Bell, United States commissioner of fisheries, Seattle.

Dr. Thomson says that the setting aside of two areas as a sanctuary for the halibut in the North has been attended with the increasing of the number of fish. One of these is in Canadian waters, off the Queen Charlotte, and another in Alaskan waters. Both of these areas were found to abound in small fish, which prompted the opinion that they were natural breeding grounds for the halibut.

The decision reached to stop fishing in these areas has borne out the theories advanced and there is a steady increase in the number of fish.

Owing to the poor prices that are being offered for halibut at present, the Seattle and Prince Rupert fleets have not resumed fishing in any extent since the conclusion of the close season. Vancouver fishermen are out, however, it is announced.

presaged tonight as Anglo-Polish conversations reportedly made progress toward modification of the French-sponsored Eastern security pact, which Warsaw and Berlin heretofore have rejected. The seeming change in Poland's foreign policy was further emphasized in the Foreign Office's announcement that Pierre Laval, French Foreign Minister, had accepted an invitation to visit Warsaw in connection with his trip to Moscow late this month. A valuable result of today's conversations, it was said, was Eden's clearer understanding of Poland's opposition to the pact as presently worded—opposition not because of any secret understanding with Germany, but because of fears for her own position.

ONTARIO HAS LARGE DEFICIT

Possibility of Balanced Budget Held Out by Premier in His Address

TORONTO, April 2 (CP).—Possibility of a balanced budget for Ontario by the end of the fiscal year which started yesterday was held out in the Ontario Legislature today by Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn as he presented his Government's first budget.

Key points in his proposal to balance the budget call for increase in succession duties, revision of stock transfer and corporation taxes, a Fall session of the Legislature and any new taxation that will be decided upon then.

For the fiscal year ending October 31, 1934, Mr. Hepburn reported a deficit of $14,606,346.87. Because the Government plans changing the end of the fiscal year from October 31 to March 31, the Premier, who is also Provincial Treasurer, included figures for the five months ending March 31, 1935, and estimated the deficit at $7,449,233.61.

A deficit of $14,606,346.87 was estimated for the new fiscal year which will be caused by charging relief to ordinary expenditure. The Government has allotted $15,000,000 for direct relief in 1935-36. Direct relief costs in the fiscal year ending October 31, 1934, were $16,558,979.62.

EPIC CANDIDATES LEAD
LOS ANGELES, April 2 (AP).—The end poverty in California—EPIC—movement, which failed to carry Upton Sinclair, its sponsor, to the governor's mansion as the Democratic nominee in last year's election, found itself back in the political wars as a result of today's city primary election.

The EPIC forces re-elected Councilman John W. Baumgartner and succeeded, late returns indicated, in getting ten councilman candidates in the fifteen districts placed in the run-off election to be held May 7. Four councilmen were re-elected.

EPIC suffered a heavy defeat, however, in the judgeship race, placing only three of their men, Irvin Taplin, Alfred E. Panosessa and William R. McKay, re-elected of the total ten. Each of the EPIC candidates had the endorsement of Sinclair.

On Pension Rolls—At March 31, a year ago, 921 former provincial or municipal employees were on pensions under the Superannuation Act. It is stated in the annual report of Norman D. Baker, superannuation commissioner, for 1933-34. Provincial pensions numbered 234, with a value of $151,640; and municipal pensions, 687, worth $310,519. Since the report was made, the statute has been revised, changing the basis of provincial pensions.

Another Adjudgment—The case of Mohan Singh, charged with false pretences, has been put over, in the city police court, for another week, on the application of R. C. Lowe, who appears for the East Indians who are launching the charge against their countryman. J. B. Clearhough, who appeared for E. H. M. Foot, counsel for the accused, objected to the adjournment, on the ground that a week ago it was understood that the case was to go on yesterday, and all the witnesses for the defence were present. Mr. Lowe pointed out that he had no

Intricacies of carding, spinning and preparing Angora rabbit wool for knitting and weaving were demonstrated and explained by Mrs. G. Findlay, of the Victoria Women's Institute, before a large meeting of the British Columbia Provincial Rabbit Breeders' Association last night in the Y.M.C.A.

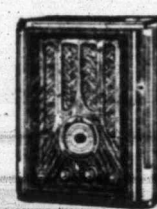

So interesting was the demonstration that members decided to follow it with an exhibition of weaving at the next meeting, the date of which will be announced later.

Preliminary plans were made for the Fall show to be held in connection with the Willows Fair. In the Rabbit Building during the exhibition demonstrations of carding, spinning, weaving and knitting rabbits' wool will be held. Skins will be cured there and made up into articles, the meeting decided.

RECOMMENDS UNIFORM RAILWAY ACCOUNTING

OTTAWA, April 2 (CP).—A statutory uniform system of railway accounting for all Canadian lines, including depreciation equipment accounting and absence write-offs, was recommended to Parliament in the report of the auditors of the Canadian National system, tabled today in the House of Commons.

Declaring considerable wrong information respecting the economics of Canadian railways gains circulation because of improper comparisons of two major railway systems, the report expressed belief that much of this confusion would be removed if a uniform system of accounting were in force.

SAANICH BOARD ELECTS OFFICERS

Resolution Concerning Island Highways Endorsed—Reeve Speaks On Proposed Water System

BRENTWOOD, April 2.—The Saanich Board of Trade held its annual meeting at the Women's Institute Hall, Brentwood, on Monday night.

The financial report showing a credit balance was presented by the secretary and was adopted as read. The election of officers for 1935 resulted as follows: Honorary president, R. P. Butchart; president, W. O. Wallace; vice-president, J. E. Sladen; secretary, W. H. McNally; treasurer, M. Atkins; auditor, L. W. Goddard; council, honorary presidents of the Saanich Farmers' Institute, the Horticultural Association and the Agriculture Society.

Those elected to the council were Reeve Crouche, J. S. A. Bastin, Captain Gray, W. C. Kersey, G. E. Sery, Councilman Hagen, Hugh Creed and P. Holloway.

A resolution from the Nanaimo Board of Trade was endorsed after a lengthy discussion on the improvement of the main highway of Vancouver Island and a fair share of the proposed expenditure for outlay on roads be allotted to Vancouver Island.

It was decided to send a letter of thanks to the municipality for the slight reduction on the improvement tax, which would benefit farmers a little and was a step in the right direction.

Reeve Crouche spoke on the proposed water system to carry water for domestic purposes as far as the Dominion Experimental Farm, as the Dominion Government carried out the work as now being proposed, unemployment and farmers would benefit immensely, the Reeve said.

NO DAYLIGHT SAVING

A resolution opposing daylight saving was endorsed. Farmers would not benefit by daylight saving, as they were already on the land as early as possible.

The tourist movement was discussed openly, and it was decided to arrange for an open meeting next month, when Mayor Leeming and L. H. Edick will be asked to address the meeting on this subject.

surplus on all net earnings in excess of $10,000.

LOWER EXEMPTIONS

Exemptions likewise are trimmed far below those prevailing in the present tax law. Unmarried persons would have an exemption of $500, instead of the $1,000 in the present law. Married persons would have an exemption of $1,000, instead of $2,500, and exemptions of dependents would be cut from $400 in the present law to $100 in the proposed war law.

With the declaration of war, industrial conscription would go into effect, whereby "all persons engaged as officers or directors of a corporation or persons in policy-forming positions in such corporations" would be "inducted into the armed forces of the United States" subject to the President's discretion.

ON ARMY PAY

Once inducted, the bill provides, "they will continue to remain with their respective corporations, but will be prohibited from accepting any other compensation than that paid by the army, and shall have rank and compensation appropriate thereto, not exceeding that of brigadier-general."

The measure further provides that "at the will of the Government," executives found unwilling to co-operate may be "shifted from the industrial management corps to the combat corps of the army."

The plan, drawn up after a long investigation into the munitions industry, provides also that all commodity exchanges would be closed and a commodities control commission provided "to fix the prices of all commodities" and control their sale.

The bill proposes giving the President authority to close securities exchanges and issue rules for any private financing permitted. Penalties for violation of any anti-profiteering provisions range in the bill as high as fines of $100,000.

His Excellency Visits Children at Solarium

Earl of Bessborough Shows Lively Interest in Humanitarian Work Being Carried Out at Mill Bay Institution—Half Holiday Declared

Children at the Queen Alexandra Solarium, Mill Bay, had an unusually thrilling afternoon yesterday when His Excellency the Earl of Bessborough paid the institution a visit, went through all the wards, shook hands with each little inmate, and before departing declared a half-holiday in the Solarium School for the first time.

Accompanied by one aide, Capt. D. Fisher-Rowe, His Excellency drove up to the Solarium in the early part of the afternoon, reaching there at 2:45 o'clock and spending a little more than three-quarters of an hour going through the wards, chatting with the staff and patients, and examining the children's work.

On arrival he was welcomed by Dr. Cyril Wacey, medical superintendent; Miss E. Stone, lady superintendent; J. W. Hudson, representing the board of directors; the two nursing supervisors, Miss P. Whiteman and Miss J. Gibson, and the other members of the nursing staff.

VISITS EACH WARD

Entering by way of the new Shrine unit, the distinguished visitor visited each ward in turn, finishing with the babies' ward. Those of the children who were able stood by their beds, and while the discipline was perfect and their behavior exemplary, there was no trace of shyness on the part of any of the boys and girls when His Excellency shook hands. When asked for their names they answered promptly.

OF SPECIAL INTEREST

Of special interest to Lord Bessborough was the exhibition of schoolwork, including drawing and painting, the details of which were explained by the teacher, Miss M. Budd. His Excellency noted the beautiful view from the sun-deck in front of the Solarium, and commented that this would make an interesting subject for those of the children who could paint.

Before leaving, His Excellency spent several minutes chatting with Miss Audrey Alexandra Brown, the gifted Vancouver Island poetess, who is so widely known as "The Dryad of Nanaimo" and who is now on the staff of the Solarium. Regret was expressed that owing to indisposition Her Excellency had been unable to make the trip to the Solarium. The announcement that a half-holiday had been declared was received by the children with prolonged cheering.

"THE CHILD"

By REGINALD B. WIGGINS, M.D., C.M., L.M.C.C.

PEEBLE SIRS

Two very wise philosophers—Socrates and Diogenes Laertius—said that "There is no sin but ignorance." Yes, I am sure that subject of parental ignorance again, and this time I am directing my fulsome ire to the would-be fathers of boys and girls.

I have no doubt that any father in this natural garden spot may be wise and successful, but may I be permitted to inform him that he is falling down miserably in the greatest and most worthy task he has to perform—that of rearing and training his boys and girls.

Why do I say that, and how do I know? Because I have worked among children for over a decade, love them and appreciate their possibilities, when given a chance. Then, daily, I observe children in the streets of this city and examine them in the clinic.

I find they are suffering from more physical defects and are the worst trained of any body of children compared with many of the slum areas of the United States in which it has been my pleasure to work.

No, father, don't pass the buck and leave it to mother. After the child is six he looks to you for protection and guidance in how to live and accepts you as his model and hero for life. Be fair, just, and warrant the child's confidence and trust.

State Control

Peace Policy

Says Speaker

TORONTO, April 2 (CP).—State control of production as an effective measure for insuring permanent peace was advocated here in an address by Mrs. Angus MacInnis, wife of the Independent Labor member of Parliament for Vancouver South.

Speaking before the League of Nations Society yesterday, Mrs. MacInnis said state control of public utilities and manufactured products instead of private ownership was a means of preventing war.

"Norway, Sweden and Denmark, to a great extent public-ownership countries, were not involved in the Great War," she declared, although geographically they are in a position where they might easily have been.

Mrs. MacInnis, daughter of J. S. Woodsworth, Canadian Co-operative Commonwealth Federation leader, asserted mass production greatly increases of the nation's purchasing power is the basic cause of war.

Before the play began, Major Bullock-Webster made a little speech expressing appreciation of the honor accorded the chapter and the dramalogue company by the gracious act of their Excellencies in attending the performance, for the presentation of which, on such an occasion, the customary copyright regulations had been waived.

The presentation was given in the customary way, the readers sitting at a long desk, only the upper part of the figures showing, the whole action of the play being conveyed in the intonation of the voices and without gesture or movement of any kind.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

THE HEART MAY BE ENLARGED WITHOUT DANGER TO LIFE

If your physician tells you that your heart is slightly enlarged, it is only natural that you should wonder about it and perhaps worry about it.

The heart enlarges because it is doing more work than usual, either due to working and exercising or because there may be some obstruction to the blood flow somewhere in the body, the kidneys, for example.

Now a heart that increases in size from hard work or exercise is usually a strong, slow heart. It has been called on to do extra work regularly, and it increases in size up to a certain point.

However, a heart that increases in size due to the blood vessels not having enough elastic tissue to open widely when blood is pumped through them gradually loses some of its power despite its increase in size. It becomes larger on the left side because this is the part of the heart that has to pump to all parts of the body—to the very farthest points, the hands and feet, whereas the right side of the heart has to pump the blood to the lungs only.

Now the heart may be gradually enlarging for years without the individual realizing it, as there may be no symptoms whatever. Should he find himself getting out of breath easily and decide to take things more easily, the enlargement may increase very slowly and no symptoms occur.

The natural question is just how much larger a heart can become before there is real danger. Your doctor will tell you that if the blood pressure is not too high and no complications are present the heart may actually increase to half as much or even to twice its natural size and the body is able to do the usual amount of work safely.

The average weight of the normal heart in man is about nine and one-half ounces and of a woman about eight to eight and one-half ounces. In some cases of heart ailments the weight may go up to sixteen ounces, one pound, and in some very bad cases the weight of the heart may be nearly two pounds.

You can thus see that enlargement of the heart need not be any cause for worry; in fact, worry may increase the blood pressure and actually further enlarge the heart.

A Real Life Experience as told by Mr. H. R. McR.

"Mr. and Mrs. Jones were the parents of four children, all in their teens. Mr. Jones, a common laborer, took suddenly ill and died. He had dropped his life insurance (carried since his youth) six months before, saying he couldn't afford to pay the premiums.

Folks said "Poor Mrs. Jones!" But she wasn't poor! Mr. Jones had left his dividends accumulate. Unknown to Mrs. Jones they kept the policy in force and to her joy three thousand dollars, the face of the policy, was paid in full when The Great-West Life was reported to Mrs. Jones was able to live comfortably and give her children a good education. Today, one of them is a teacher, another a nurse, in all they are making this old world of ours a better place in which to live.

This policy did not save a business, nor a farm, but a family—the most important institution in the world."

THE OTHOA SCOTT FUND

(Contributed)

The $10,000 Othoa Scott Endowment Fund, which is being raised by the Women's Institutes of British Columbia, today has reached the sum of $4,770.83, of which $4,500 has been invested in Dominion Government 4 1/2 per cent bonds.

Its start is an interesting story. In 1922 a mother living in a remote part of the Province wrote Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan, superintendent of the British Columbia Women's Institutes, asking for financial help for the treatment of her young daughter, Othoa Scott, who had a tubercular spine. Mrs. MacLachlan appealed to the 120 branches at the time for support. The response was tremendous. Central Park, under the leadership of Mrs. H. Bayley, took the responsibility of placing her in the Vancouver General Hospital.

Although Othoa Scott's malady had gone too far for the straightening of her spine, the child grew steadily better. The institutes financed a business course for her, and today she is a self-supporting citizen, being employed as a stenographer at the Solarium. On her recovery, there still remained $500, which had been retained for her benefit. It was decided to start an Othoa Scott $10,000 endowment fund, the interest of which to be used for destitute crippled children.

In a period of thirteen years, medical attention for over fifty unfortunate little ones has been financed. It was through the Women's Institutes that the first crippled children's fund of this Province was established. This, with the assistance of other organizations and individuals, has resulted in the building of the up to date new Crippled Children's Hospital in Vancouver, opened last year, and the Victoria Solarium, the only one of its kind in Canada.

The Beautiful Derelict

by Carolyn Wells

SYNOPSIS
While Fleming Stone, famous detective, is aboard the Nantucket, bound from Nova Scotia to New York, a beautiful yacht, drifting helplessly, is sighted in a fog somewhere off Martha's Vineyard.

With Captain Gregg's permission, Stone accompanies Jamison, the third mate, and his lookout crew to the craft. On the deck is a body of a well-dressed man of about 40, from papers in his pocket, is Elkins Van Zandt, of New York City. In the hold, lying face downward before the motor, is a good-looking young man of about 25, dead from a terrible wound on the back of the head. No weapon capable of having inflicted it is to be found. Captain Gregg visits the yacht, notifies the coastguard, and is instructed to tow the yacht, the Mad Anthony, to New London. There it is learned that the young man was Barry Wayne, the owner, in whose cabin on the yacht—Stone had found the photograph of a beautiful girl with "Barry from Jane" written across one corner. Stone and Mr. Demarest, U.S. attorney, try to reconstruct the double murder, if murder it was, and Stone finds that he must always take a third person into account. Van Zandt, it is evident, either died a natural but painful death, or was poisoned, as the face is contorted. There is no wound on the body. Stone discards the theory that Barry and then committed suicide. Patrick Wayne, Barry's father, and Patrick's brother Dan are notified, and they fly to New London to see Stone and Demarest.

CHAPTER III
"Let me talk, Dan," said his brother, with a kindly note in his voice. "We live over at Sand Hill, Nantucket Island, on a rather large estate. My brother and his son, Barry, and myself comprise the family. We frequently have house guests. Just now several people are with us for the international races. Yesterday morning we planned to go over to Newport to lunch with some friends. Some of us went on a friend's yacht; some in a motor launch, and Barry proposed to go in his yacht, the Mad Anthony, taking with him his fiancée, Miss Holt.

"But at the last minute, Miss Holt's father refused to let his daughter go with Barry alone, and decreed that she should go with him and meet Barry at the Newport party. Both the young people were terribly put out, but Mr. Holt was inexorable, and they had to submit. With an idea of throwing himself into the breach, Mr. Van Zandt, another guest, said he would go with Barry. The boy, angered at the situation, said he didn't care who went with him, and he and Mr. Van Zandt started off for the club where the yacht is kept. From that point we know absolutely nothing of the two men, or of the yacht. They didn't show up at the Newport house for luncheon, and there was no word from them through the day or night. There's a wireless set on board, and we couldn't understand why Barry didn't call for assistance, if needed."

"What did you finally assume had happened?" Demarest said, gently. "We had various theories. My brother and I rather inclined to the idea of kidnapping by a bold and ruthless gang, who would demand ransom. Or who, perhaps, were merely bent on stealing the yacht and stranding the two men somewhere."

"There were no hard feelings between Mr. Barry Wayne and his father?"

"Oh, no, no! We three led a most harmonious life. Business men during the winter, and long summer vacations in our Nantucket home."

"You endorse all your brother has said, Mr. Wayne?" and Demarest turned to Barry's father.

"Yes, indeed. He was as fond of the lad as I myself. Barry's mother died when he was a child, and we have brought him up as nearly as possible as she would have done. Please tell me what happened? I know only that he is dead."

Demarest and Captain Gregg told him the facts as known. Suppressing his emotion, he said calmly: "And now what must happen next?"

"You or your brother must identify the bodies," Demarest told him.

Hockey Games Will Not Be Broadcast Over C.R.C. Chain

ACCORDING to an announcement made yesterday by G. A. Wright, manager of C.R.C., Vancouver outlet of the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission, no games in the Stanley Cup series between Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Maroons will be broadcast by the Canadian network. However, announcements made last Saturday by the sponsors of the hockey broadcasts indicated Saturday's game would be aired. It could not be determined last night if a special network of Canadian stations would be carrying Saturday's game.

turned eventually to Barry Wayne's estate, but there will be delay. "And when will the bodies be given over to us?"

"After the inquest. Then the real investigation will begin. I shall be on the case, but it will be in the hands of the Department of Justice. I trust I may be of help, for while the coast guard enforces more laws on the water now than formerly, it does not maintain any highly-organized criminal investigation agency. So my long experience in detective work may be of use. And, too, now that we learn the home port of the yacht is Nantucket, that may mean changes in procedure."

The two men went back to the office of the United States Attorney, to find the inquest was just being opened.

The coroner was a brisk, busy little man, who seemed to think this case unimportant and of little interest. How mistaken his opinion was; later this was to be a source of deep regret to him.

He first questioned Captain Gregg, who gave a succinct account of his seeing the derelict, investigating it and notifying the coast guard.

Fleming Stone was called next. He told all the facts he knew, expressing no opinions, though urged to do so. Instead, he inquired what the reports from the autopsy had been.

Dr. Blaine, who had conducted the post mortem, replied to this.

"Regarding the death of Mr. Wayne," he began, "there is no doubt that he was hit a fatal blow by someone desiring his death. There is no effect of an accident and he could not possibly have struck the blow himself. A heavy instrument was used, which, I understand, has not been found."

"As to the other dead man, Mr. Van Zandt, I found no indication of anything but a natural death. The man had a bad case of ulcers of the stomach, a dread disease. It had reached a stage where death must ensue soon, and he could not have lived another twenty-four hours."

"And there was no sign of poisoning?" the coroner inquired.

"None other than the poison of the disease itself. It is a terrible malady."

"How long had these men been dead?"

"That question is always difficult to answer, and especially so in this case, as the bodies had been exposed to the weather for many hours. I should say anywhere from fifteen to twenty hours. But this is mere surmise. Mr. Wayne tells us they left the Nantucket Yacht Club sometime after 9 o'clock yesterday morning. I should say their death occurred pretty soon after starting; but I cannot be positive. Also, I have no reason to think that they died at the same time, nor yet no reason to think otherwise. As to the presence of a third person on the yacht, am not qualified to say. But, so far as I can see, Mr. Wayne was most surely killed, and Mr. Van Zandt as surely died of the disease known as ulcers of the stomach."

"Now, Mr. Stone," said the coroner, "having heard the autopsy report, will you state your opinion as to the possibilities of the case?"

"In view of the report we have just heard there seems to be but a small range of possibilities. We must take the doctor's findings as truth, and that leaves us with pretty fair proof that Mr. Wayne was murdered and that Mr. Van Zandt died of a death from a recognized disease. Granting this, we are faced with the problem of who committed the murder. As I am employed on the case, I shall, of course, use all my energies to solve the problem, but at present I have no idea as to who the criminal is, nor can I have until I am more conversant with the evidence. Until then, I can give no opinion whatever."

Daniel Wayne was called, and though he preserved his poise, he looked badly shaken and talked with difficulty. He said nothing evidential, nor did his brother.

There were further witnesses from the steamer, the doctor's opinions agreeing entirely with those of Dr. Blaine.

Despairing of any further real information, the coroner gave the case over to the jury, who promptly returned the verdict that Barry Wayne was murdered by a person or persons unknown, and that Elkins Van Zandt died of a severe attack of stomach ulcers.

The coroner gathered up his papers, and with a few conventional words of leave-taking, hurried away. "It is understood," Demarest said, "that this inquest was purely routine, but it is useful to go over to Nantucket? I don't want to be intrusive, but the work must go on, and I trust it can do so, unimpeded."

"Yes," declared Dan Wayne, "we will all go. My brother and I will undertake to tell the guests who are there, and I hope they need not be troubled with questions today, at least."

Demarest promised him that should not happen, unless necessary.

PARKS COMMITTEE SAVES CITY CASH

New Playground May Be Built in Macdonald Park for Use of Children

As a result of a meeting of the parks and boulevards committee of the City Council yesterday afternoon, the treasury was saved approximately $450. Some time ago a request was made for a new light truck for the parks board. Aldermen John A. Worthington, James Adam, Dr. J. D. Hunter and Andrew McGavin decided to throw out tenders and make the old vehicle last another year.

After listening to a delegation of even ladies, the committee agreed that part of Macdonald Park should be fenced off and planted with shrubs as a playground for children. This will be recommended to the council for action.

Special regulations in regard to licensing of police dogs were discussed, but aldermen decided to take no action until further investigation.

Lord Baden-Powell, due here on April 6, will be invited to plant a tree in the Mayors' Grove at Beacon Hill on the afternoon of April 12.

FORESEES NEW RULE FOR U.S.

California Business Man Predicts Socialism or Dictatorship for Country

With one-third of the Californians unemployed, Mr. Smith said they were fast becoming disgruntled with the experiments and blunders of the Roosevelt regime. Huey P. Long, Senator for Louisiana, and probable nominee for President at the next election, was winning more and more supporters in California, the visitor explained. Upton Sinclair, too, was becoming more of an idol than ever, Mr. Smith said, adding that the Townsend $200 a month old-age pension plan was receiving the endorsement of business and political leaders alike.

These conditions seemed to breed carelessness, the visitor pointed out, saying that in Pasadena, with a total population of 85,000, 1,000 persons a month were treated in hospitals for injuries received in traffic accidents. Police there were now enforcing regulations with greater strictness, however, he added.

Mr. Smith is founder of the Smith System of Foot Correction, and operates his business in Pasadena. He hopes to establish an office in Victoria, which, he says, will employ between fifteen and twenty persons, and another office in Seattle. At present he is at the Dominion Hotel.

BOSTON CUBS CHALK UP 1-0 PUCK VICTORY

Turn Back Providence in Canadian-American Loop Play-Offs

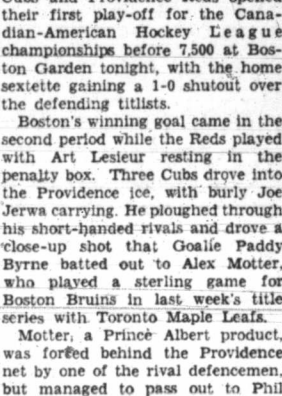

BOSTON, April 2 (AP).—Boston Cubs and Providence Reds opened their first play-off for the Canadian-American Hockey League championships before 7,500 at Boston Garden tonight, with the home sextette gaining a 1-0 shutout over the defending titlists.

Boston's winning goal came in the second period while the Reds played with Art Lesieur resting in the penalty box. Three Cubs drove into the Providence ice, with curly Joe Jerwa carrying. He ploughed through his short-handed rivals and drove a close-up shot that Goalie Paddy Byrne batted out to Alex Motter, who played a sterling game for Boston Bruins in last week's title series with Toronto Maple Leafs.

Motter, a Prince Albert product, was forced behind the Providence net by one of the rival defencemen, but managed to pass out to Phil Besler, a fellow townsman, and the right winger scored a sizzling fifteen-foot shot from the boards.

The three-out-of-five series for the title and the Fontaine Cup will be resumed in Providence on Thursday night and the third contest will be played here Saturday.

LEAFS AND MAROONS READY FOR ANNUAL CLASSIC OF SEASON

Connie Smythe Takes Toronto to Preston to Train Quietly for Opening Game at Maple Leaf Gardens—Tommy Gorman Figures He Has Good Chance to Capture Trophy

By ELMER DULMAGE Canadian Press Staff Writer.
TORONTO, April 2.—As-tute Connie Smythe, whose Stanley Cup challenges for the most part do their voting as well as hockey playing here, seems to have solved one of his major play-off difficulties. He keeps the Leafs away from their friends and neighbors. In the manner of an English soccer team preparing for a cup tie, the champions of the National Hockey League have disappeared from the metropolitan scene to lay plans for combating Montreal Maroons later this week. They live in the quiet of a spa—Preston, Ont.

No one may telephone to ask about tickets for Thursday night's opening clash with the Maroons. They are removed from the excitement of Maple Leaf Gardens, which hasn't nearly enough tickets to go around. They take skating practice in the Galt Arena, not far from their hotel.

The mental attitude of his athletes began to concern Maestro Smythe a year ago after Detroit Red Wings came here and thumped the Leafs one-two in the N.H.L. finals, eventually winning the series. He noticed, among other things, how much better the club played in Detroit, out of range of telephoning friends.

SEKS QUIET PLACE
When the Leafs qualified to play Boston Bruins in the league title series this Spring, Smythe hurried them off to Syracuse, N.Y., for a couple of days. Since the four-game triumph over the Bruins, the Toronto boss wasted no time seeking some more quiet for his team.

More than 14,000 fans are expected to see the first Leaf-Maroon game here Thursday with close to 15,000 in attendance at the second game Saturday night. After that the teams move to Montreal for two games, if five are necessary to decide the best-of-five series, and Toronto will get the fifth if they divide the first four.

SAME LINE-UP
There was little reason to believe Smythe and Dick Irvin would decide to make any change to the line-up, leaving young Nick Metz to play on the third string forward line with Pop Kelly, hero of the fourth Boston game, and Harold Cotton. Buzz Boll will be on hand for general duty.

Unless King Clancy, fiery defence veteran, should meet with an injury, or Metz should fail to play as well as he did against Boston, Andy Blair seemed unlikely to get into the series.

Heavyweight Mat Men May Return Here This Week

WITH a shortage of leading middleweights and lightweights in Pacific Coast wrestling circles, Promoter Fred Richardson yesterday made plans for the return of heavyweight matmen to Victoria. While unable to make any definite announcement yesterday evening, the local matchmaker hopes to be able to present an all-heavyweight card Saturday at the Tillicum gymnasium. If successful arrangements are completed, local followers of the grunt and groan game will see such stars as Ray Steele, Earl McCready, "Jumping" Joe Savoldi, Everett Marshall, Jagat Singh, Jack Forsgren, Count Zarnyoff, and many other of the top-ranking heavyweights.

HUGH FRANCIS HEADS OARSMEN

Appointed Captain of J.B.A.A. Rowing Committee at Meeting

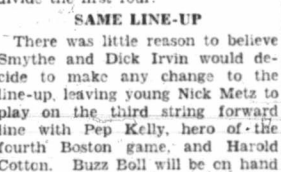

Hugh Francis, popular Bay oarsman, was yesterday evening elected captain of the J.B.A.A. rowing committee at a well-attended meeting held at the clubhouse overlooking the Gorge.

Don Davis was named vice-captain, and the following were appointed members of the executive committee: "Mac" Billingsley, Fred Parker, A. Mann, Jim Temple and Ian McConnan.

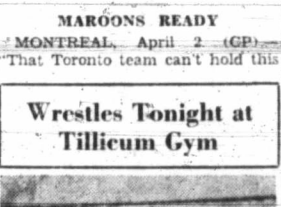

Dan Moses, senior coach of the veteran rowing club for the past few seasons, will occupy this important position again this season and will have the boys out for training in the near future.

NEARLY COMPLETED
The new bathhouse is almost completed and overhauling of the equipment is now being carried out as the enthusiastic oarsmen prepare for the coming summer. Plans for the season were discussed and judged by the enthusiasm displayed by the members, 1935 will go down in the record books as one of the most successful seasons since the inception of this veteran rowing club.

New members have been secured and these, added to the large number of enrolling local oarsmen already enrolled with the Bay club, will give Coach Moses plenty of good material for his 1935 crews.

Believe It or Not

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

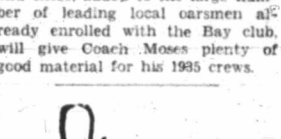

The Dragon Tree. This curious tree belongs to the family of Lilaceae, which includes the asparagus. The most famous dragon tree was the one in Tenerife, one of the Canary Islands, found by Humboldt. That tree was seventy feet tall and forty-five feet in circumference, and was believed to be 6,000 years old. It is a species which Herodotus referred to when he described the Flora of the Garden of the Hesperides in Cyrenaica, northern Africa, which I visited a few months ago. The Golden Apples coveted by Hercules were supposed to have grown on this tree, although modern scholars believe that the greatly publicized Golden Apples were plain yellow-skinned oranges. A resin called "Dragon's Blood" is a product of the Dragon Tree.

April Fools Day—The various names for the day are, in Spain "Bolo de Abril," in France "Poissons d'Avril," in Japan "Dolls Day" and in Scotland "Gowk's Day" (Cuckoo Day). In Portugal, Holland and Russia the day is known respectively as "Trick," "Pop" and "Joke" Day.

GOLDEN MILLER'S OWNER AND TRAINER BREAK UP

Failure of Grand National Favorite Still Talk of Turf

Disagreement Over Question of Jockey's Riding Ability Brings About Break Between Dorothy Paget and Basil Briscoe—Horse Was Lame in Big Race States Rider

LONDON, April 2 (CP).—Disagreement over whether Jockey Gerry Wilson was to blame for the sensational failure of the hot favorite Golden Miller in Friday's Grand National today caused a break between Dorothy Paget, owner of the gelding, and Trainer Basil Briscoe.

Briscoe said he could only conclude the failure of the topweight was due to faulty handling, but Miss Paget would not hear of this and, as a result, the two have come to the parting of the ways.

The break was the latest development in one of the most curious happenings in the history of the English turf. The sensations started with publication of race photographs indicating there was nothing wrong with Golden Miller's running. What caused all the furor was the fact that a win for Golden Miller would have brought severe losses to the bookmakers.

Now it is said that exploding of a flash bomb by photographers seeking to interfere with rival photographers' operations was responsible for Wilson catapulting off Golden Miller at a minor obstacle.

In an interview Miss Paget said: "It is a terrible thing for an owner when her jockey and trainer disagree, but unfortunately the trainer has taken the matter entirely in his own hands by a public statement he made. He clearly does not wish to accept the responsibility of training a horse so much in the public eye.

TO CONSIDER MATTER

"Golden Miller will probably move to temporary quarters until I have had time to give the matter consideration. I am more than grateful to Mr. Briscoe for the wonderful successes and joy he has brought me through Golden Miller and I wish him the best of luck."

Later a statement on behalf of Miss Paget said: "Miss Paget asked

RACE CREWS IN WORKOUT

Oxford and Cambridge Hold Light Training Sessions On Course

PUTNEY-ON-THAMES, England, April 2 (CP).—A strong northerly wind against the tide created a miniature sea on the boat race course today but the Oxford and Cambridge crews, tapering off training for the classic varsity race Saturday, got in light workouts nonetheless.

Unless the wind should change before Saturday the race may have to be postponed as the boats, under conditions that prevailed earlier today, would have been waterlogged before getting very far.

Late this afternoon the Dark Blues paddled to Hammersmith and back, the only racing attempted being three bursts of six strokes apiece and one of ten strokes.

Cambridge paddled at twenty to the minute and on their return had several short bursts of rowing.

Young Woman Is Given Licence By Jockey Club

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP).—The Jockey Club broke down the walls of precedent today when it granted Mary Hirsch, twenty-two-year-old daughter of Max Hirsch, famous United States horseman, a licence to train thoroughbreds in New York State.

It was the first time in the history of the organization, founded in 1865, that the stewards had approved of a woman's application to be officially recognized as a trainer. Heretofore such a permission was considered an infringement of a tradition as old as racing itself.

Oak Bay Noses Out Esquimalt In Soccer Tilt

Brent Murdoch's goal, scored from a free kick early in the initial half, gave Oak Bay High School soccer eleven a 1-0 victory over Esquimalt High School yesterday afternoon in a knockout fixture played at Bullen Park.

Oak Bay put on the pressure soon after the kick-off and it was during this attack that they were awarded a free kick for hands. Murdoch's well-directed shot went between the sticks to give the visitors what proved to be the only score of the match.

Both elevens battled hard for the remainder of the game, with play being very evenly divided.

MUST DEFEAT RING VETERAN

Max Schmeling Has to Beat Braddock Before Getting Title Match

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP).—The New York State Athletic Commission today tossed the heavyweight boxing championship problem back into Madison Square Garden's lap.

A week ago the commission took charge of the situation by designating James J. Braddock, Jersey City veteran, the leading contender for the title and decreed that before Max Schmeling could meet Champion Max Baer in this state, at least, he must first meet and defeat Braddock.

Today the commission ordered the Garden's matchmaker, James J. Johnston, to produce a signed contract for either a Braddock-Schmeling bout or a championship Baer-Braddock contest by April 16, at which time dates for important outdoor shows will be apportioned by the commissioners.

Vancouver and the Garrison hockey teams will meet this afternoon at the Work Point grounds in what is expected to be the final match of the British Columbia championship series. The bully-off will take place at 2:30 o'clock sharp. H. and R. Gillespie will referee.

The teams will take the field as follows: Garrison—Goal, Bromley; fullbacks, Deigan, Sullivan; halfbacks, Cater, Jones (captain), Elton; forwards, Thomas, Williamson, Buxton, Provins and Sisman.

Vancouver—Goal, E. R. C. Deane; fullbacks, Stevens, Maitland; halfbacks, S. S. Worsley, J. P. Nichols, G. N. Worsley; forwards, Rhodes, Bedwick, Parquhar, Ross and E. S. Deane.

At a meeting of the executive of the Victoria Lacrosse Club, held the other evening, plans for the approaching season were discussed in a general way, and a decision was reached to call a general meeting of all Victorians interested in the Canadian national game at the Eagles Hall.

British Columbia cricket clubs have been asked to co-operate with clubs in Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan in the formation of a Western Canada Cricket Association. The father of the scheme is A. R. Morrison, of Winnipeg, who recently paid a visit to Vancouver, Victoria and other points between here and Winnipeg.

Security Prices Drop Slightly at New York Mart

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP).—A little out of breath after yesterday's short upward spurt, shares gave ground in trading on the New York Stock Exchange today.

Following Monday's session in the spotlight, the rails drew backstage, surrendering the advantage gained on temperate enthusiasm for the rate compromise granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Sales aggregated 532,388 shares.

Fractional losses included in the list were United States Steel, down 1-4 at 28 5/8; American Smelting, off 1-4 at 132 3/4; Chrysler with a loss of 5-8 at 33 3/4, and International Harvester down 1-2 at 39 3/4.

Amongst Canadian issues, losses ranging up to a point occurred in Dome Mines, McIntyre-Porcupine, Noranda, Lakeshore, Distillers-Seagraves and Hiram Walker. Hollinger advanced 3-4 of a point.

Losses of 3-12 and 6 points were suffered by Armour and Wilson preferred, respectively, under selling ascribed to the rising cost of packing products.

Renewed interest in United States Government securities, and further nibbling at secondary rails and utilities, helped give the bond market a steady to firm tone in today's slightly expanded dealings.

The industrials generally following a restricted range.

Foreign loans were quiet.

WHEAT PRICES UP FRACTIONS

Chicago Drops and Liverpool Gains With Winnipeg in Middle Course

WINNIPEG, April 2 (CP).—The first unofficial forecasts on the New United States winter-wheat crop, awaited by the grain trade for weeks, appeared today but failed to create expected bullish fervor.

Wheat futures on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, idled through a dull session. Prices closed 3-8 of a cent higher, May at 85-3/8 and July at 85 cents.

Private reports estimated the 1935 American crop would total 490,000,000 bushels, based on April 1 conditions. The estimates compared with last year's harvest of 405,000,000 bushels and 618,000,000 bushels, the five-year average.

The forecasts were higher than many traders had expected. Chicago closed 5-8 of a cent lower, its effect on the local market offset by a 3-8 advance at Liverpool. Buenos Aires also was strong, up a cent at noon.

Cash and coarse grains trading again was slow.

THE LABORER IS WORTHY OF HIS HIRE

It is strange how the troubles of the past habitually return to plague the people of the present. Perhaps it is because most of our ills are man-made, and man being more or less unchangeable is always making for himself a brand-new set of old irritations to take the joy out of new life.

and humanitarians. And labor's complaints are invariably man-inspired. Today more than ever are we reminded on all sides that the laborer is worthy of his hire. This is another way of saying that labor is entitled to a greater return for its efforts—which is just about the way it was first put in 1 Timothy 5, 18: "For the Scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn. And the laborer is worthy of his reward." (Copyright, 1935, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

VANCOUVER CRITIC PRAISES ROAD SHOW

Vancouver audiences have been extremely pleased this week with the "Georgia Minstrels," who are at the Beacon Theatre and who will come to Victoria on Friday for a two-day engagement at the Empire Theatre. There will be several performances both Friday and Saturday.

The theatrical critic of The Vancouver Sun, writing of this show the other day, said: "All the delights of the old minstrel show, interspersed with a pleasing variety of modern vaudeville, are now in Vancouver."

Everything that goes to make up a good minstrel and vaudeville show are contained in Richards and Pringle's "Georgia Minstrels." There are end men and gag men, a score of great singers, a male chorus, the like of which has not been heard in Vancouver for many a day, and tap dancers of whom one never tires of watching. And with it all, there is the rhythmic music of an orchestra, as well as of a fine 'darker' jazz band.

IMPRESSIVE VICTORY FOR NATIONAL PARTY

BUDAPEST, April 2 (CP-Havas).—Returns from the general election Sunday show an impressive victory for the National Union Party of Premier Julius Goemboes. By winning 134 seats in the Lower Chamber out of a total of 175 contested, Goemboes' party will have a majority even if they should lose all the other seventy seats to be filled at further elections next Thursday and Sunday.

APPEAL ENTERED FOR JOE CELONA

Stuart Henderson Visits Victoria For Purpose and Then Leaves For Conspiracy Charge

An appeal has been launched against the conviction of Joe Celona in connection with procuring charges heard at the Vancouver Assizes. Stuart Henderson returned to Victoria yesterday and formally entered an appeal for hearing at the sitting of the Court of Appeal that opens here on June 4.

Mr. Henderson returned to Vancouver last evening in order to prepare for the opening of the preliminary hearing in conspiracy charges in which his client is among those charged. This will open tomorrow in the Vancouver police court, and Mr. Henderson will appear for Celona.

In making his appeal against the conviction secured on Monday evening in the Vancouver Assizes, when, in addition to Joe Celona, Clarence Bancroft and Ellen Joyce were also convicted, Mr. Henderson attacks the trial of the three mentioned on the one charge. He also attacks the joining of the cases of the two girls concerned. He alleges there was misdirection of the jury by the trial judge.

During his visit, Mr. Henderson took up the question of bail for Celona. Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald, of the Court of Appeal, who fixed bail at $20,000 on his own recognizance, or if two sureties were obtained, the amount would be $20,000.

The bail application was opposed by Colonel Eric Pepler, deputy attorney-general, but the chief justice considered it should be placed very high, but it could not be refused.

Safety Week Will Be Held End of April

Victoria's Spring "Safety Week" campaign will be held at the end of April, Police Chief Heatley announced yesterday.

These campaigns, two of which were held last year, proved of great value in educating motorists, cyclists and pedestrians alike, the chief declared.

Each Spring and Fall there is a need to check up and educate, and Chief Heatley intends to conduct the campaign before the traffic increases for the Spring and Summer months. Chief Heatley said: "Unless motorists refrain from crossing intersections at a high rate of speed, they will be prosecuted. Hand signals must also be given and caution practised at all times by motorists, cyclists and pedestrians."

Y.M.C.A.-Y.W.C.A. Campaign Promised Another $500 to Sewell Fund of $5,437

Frank Paulding's report at a meeting of Y.M.C.A. board of directors Monday evening showed 790 persons had contributed $6,437 during the recent Y.M.C.A.-Y.W.C.A. joint campaign. F. E. Winslow, chairman of the special campaign committee, mentioned that $500 more had been promised. Directors agreed that the drive was one of the most successful for years.

J. O. Cameron's statement showed the institution to be in more favorable circumstances than at the same time last year. J. V. Johnson's physical report called attention to greater attendance and an increase in social activities during March. Warren Martin mentioned larger attendance in the gymnasium and increased activities among various clubs. E. G. Rowbottom presented an encouraging statement of the public speaking class activities.

A letter of condolence was read from E. M. Best, of the National Y.M.C.A. council at Toronto, referring to the death of W. Ellis Brown. E. D. Otter, also of the national council, will attend the annual meeting here on May 20.

BOY SHOTS AND WOUNDS TEACHER

Revenge Given as Motive for Attack—Former Pupil Committed to Mental Hospital

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., April 2 (CP).—Revenge was the motive, according to police, for the shooting of Vice-Principal T. Turner, of the Boy Island, Alta. school, who was in hospital here today under treatment for a leg wound. His condition was not serious.

The shooting occurred Friday when Dick Erne, nineteen, opened fire on the school teacher, who some weeks ago ordered him expelled. The youth was arrested Saturday and today committed to the Ponoka Mental Hospital.

Jane Dixon Says:

WHAT TO DO WHEN HUSBAND TELLS YOU HE IS THROUGH—Dazed Wife Tries to Clear Head from Effect of Blow

What would you do if your husband came to you and said: "We're through. I've outgrown you. It is my intention to travel far and fast, and you've become a liability. We're at the parting of the ways. Please go your way and leave me free to go mine."

I know it happens every day, but somehow we never think such a thing could happen to us.

We are no more immune from such a situation than was the woman who has written to me out of the confusion of her mind and the misery of her heart asking what I would do were I in her place.

Dear Jane Dixon: Last night my husband told me we were all washed up. He doesn't need me any more, so he wants me to get out of his way.

For several months I've known something was wrong, but I thought, of course, it was business that worried him. When he came out flat and put the cards on the table I couldn't believe my ears.

We began in a very small way. I kept my job for two years after our marriage because we needed the money. His salary was mighty slim. I happened to know his work well, and we always talked it over before he made a move. The moves were lucky, and he started up the ladder. I forgot all about climbing my own ladder because I was so interested in his climb.

Only once we were actually embattled about one of his moves, and that was the most important of all, the turning point in his business career. My judgment won out, much against his belief that it would. I don't know why, but from that day he has been resentful. Time after time I've heard him telling people how clever he was to make the decision I had to fight him to reach.

His salary began to multiply on the strength of that decision. I wish I had never made it. We were happy, but when the money flew in, happiness flew out the window. I've tried to hold on, but I can't. My husband must go to this important place and to that important party, but never does he invite me to go with him. He is the big shot, and I am the wife of his meagre days.

Three months ago he met a woman with an important social position. She has discarded two husbands and is on the lookout for a third who can supply her with butterfly wings. I'm sure my husband does not love her, but he is completely overcome by her ability to take him to places and introduce him to the people he thinks he ought to know.

Even with his large salary he has had to go into debt to do the things this woman tells him a man of his standing should do. Such things, for example, as an expensive foreign car with chauffeur (which I am never permitted to use), chartering a yacht to entertain his new "important" friends on a week-end cruise (to which I was not invited).

What shall I do? I know he doesn't want me any more. But when you love a man as I love him and see him heading straight for disaster, you feel you must save him. How can you save him when he thrusts you aside and tells you you're through?—Dazed Wife.

SHOULD COME ACROSS FINANCIALLY

Answer: When greed takes possession of man's mind, crowding out all that is fine or fair in his heart, there is not much that can be done about it. Your husband's greed is not only for money, but for position, and that is the deadliest of all greeds.

Rarely do persons obsessed to shine in what they see as lofty social spots or high worldly position stop their headlong gallop until they are tossed. Then, if they are lucky, some loyal soul who jogged along comfortably with them at the beginning of their ride will pick them up and try to patch together the pieces. If they are not lucky, they either remain prostrate or try to crawl back painfully toward sanity.

Since you love your husband, you may as well swallow your pride and do everything possible to open his eyes to the wreckage he is piling up—wreck of the happiness you built together, wreck of his economic position, wreck of the respect of all decent-thinking, decent-living people. Don't weep for his favors or beg for them. Make a quiet, sincere, organized effort to reclaim him. Keep your dignity and your integrity.

If your efforts fail, accept his decision with your chin up. Don't let him think he is kidding himself of a weak, whining woman. Make him know he is losing a strong partner.

Above all, insist on sharing financially in the success you helped to win. You will need economic independence while you are readjusting your life. Then interest yourself in some work you like to do. Work is the world's best panacea for hungry hearts and its most healing medicine for hearts that are broken.

AMATEUR GROUP LUNCHEON GUESTS

Members of Little Theatre Association Entertain Kiwanians With Sketches and Songs

An innovation was introduced into the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club yesterday, when, instead of having a speaker address the gathering, members of the Victoria Little Theatre Association attended and provided a very pleasant entertainment.

The party consisted of John Barracough, Mrs. Barracough, Arthur Kerr, Vaughan Barker and Douglas Parker. The visitors were introduced by Hugh Allan, who spoke of the good work that was being done by the association in fostering dramatic art in the community.

Mrs. Barracough and Mr. Parker contributed solos, which were enjoyed. Len Acres acted as accompanist for them. Amusing scenes were presented by members of the Little Theatre group, including "The Chain Gang" and "Domestic Dreams." Mr. Barker contributed dramatic readings including "The Old Warrior," by request.

An amusing feature was contributed by Mr. Kerr, who selected a number of the members of the club to assist him in preparing a cast for a playlet. When he had given each of them their position for the opening scene, he suddenly remembered he had not given the title. When he announced it as "The Gathering of the Nuts," there was a general retreat from the stage.

At the conclusion of the program, H. F. Davis thanked the Little Theatre Association for the entertainment given. He spoke of the good work that the organization was doing to advance dramatic art in the city. He also thanked the singers and Mr. Acres for his accompaniments.
